Black Country Museum

On Thursday Miss Scully's class went on a trip to the Black Country Museum.

"When we arrived we played with lots of toys. "Some were wooden and some of them were really old!" (Henson). After we played with the toys we sat and had our lunch. "When we were finished we went to see the old houses and the old school." (Amiah). The school was really fun. We sat in rows which were split into girls and boys and had to call the strict teacher Sir and show him that our hands were clean. We practiced our 2 times tables and he even made us practice the alphabet backwards. "Mr Snape got in trouble and was hit with the cane!"(Serenity).

At the end of the day, we went on an old-fashioned red double decker and sang The Wheels on the Bus led by the funny conductor. We all had an amazing day!"

World Autism Awareness Day

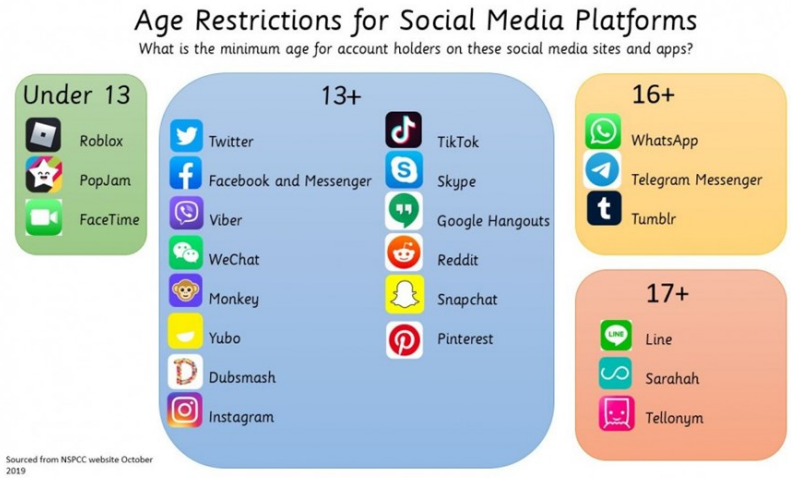
Thank you to everybody for taking part in World Autism Awareness Day, it was lovely to see all the children dressed in so many brightly colours.
As a school we raised £222.00.

Thank you.

Social Media

We are receiving more and more concerns from parents whose child has received threatening messages via social media. As a school we are regularly informing children about how to stay safe on the internet, but this does not seem to deter children from abusing the trust, that you, as parents, have given to them to access these platforms.

As a school we are unable to police what your children do in their own homes. We kindly ask you to monitor your child's activities on their social media devices and continue conversations with them about maintaining their safety.



Art Week

In Mrs Wyre's class, we have been looking at 'Still life art.' We have spent the week setting up still life pictures and then using lots of different medium to recreate it. This image was inspired by the artist Nicole Dyre a modern artist from America. She likes to catalogue everyday objects using ripped paper and card. We painted different pieces of card and used gouache to mix and blend colours. Then we ripped or cut these to recreate our still art. We hope you like it!

Well Done

Well Done to Francis who has been awarded his white stripe belt in kickboxing.
We are very proud of Evie who has been out litter picking voluntarily in the local area to help the animals. What a fantastic role model for others.
And a big Well Done to Chloe who walked up Catbells in the Lakes for the RSPCA in the holidays and raised £180 for the charity!
