This half term's value:
Thankfulness

Humphs Histories

Year 5 and 6 have thoroughly enjoyed their Ancient Greek History Day. They have thrown themselves into a range of fun activities from dressing up in Greek armour, crushing grapes to make traditional Greek drinks and forming their own democracy with leaders taking responsibility for groups of other children. The children designed their own Greek pottery to take home. Many thanks to our history expert, Steve, from Humphs History.

Fidgets

We would like to remind all parents and carers that fidget toys and other sensory items should not be brought into school from home without prior discussion and agreement with our SENDCo.

We recognise that some children benefit from sensory aids to help them regulate their emotions, maintain focus and feel comfortable in the school environment. We are committed to supporting the individual sensory needs of all our children and ensuring they have access to the resources they need to learn and thrive. Where a child requires a sensory aid, school will work with the child and, where appropriate, their parents or carers to identify suitable resources. School will provide appropriate sensory aids for children who need them, ensuring that these are suitable for use within the classroom and support learning without causing unnecessary distraction.

Thank you for your understanding, cooperation and continued support in helping us maintain a calm, safe and purposeful learning environment for all children.
